Linda Colevas was born in 1952, and is a native of Washington, D.C. She attended schools in Washington, D.C., and Oxon Hill, Maryland, and began her career as an Executive Secretary in Washington, D.C. in 1970. She began working as a legal secretary for the law firm of Lancaster & Garner in 1981, and later with DeCaro Doran's predecessor, O'Malley, Miles, Harrell & Levin, from 1984 to 1993, while seeking a degree in Business Administration.

Ms. Colevas has been the Office Administrator of DeCaro, Doran, Siciliano, Gallagher & DeBlasis, LLP since its inception, and manages the firm's personnel and operations. As such, she is responsible for the recruitment of professionals and recruitment and hiring of all staff personnel. Inquiries regarding available positions should be directed to her attention. See the Careers link on this website.

Ms. Colevas is a member of SHRM (Society of Human Resource Management), the National and Maryland Chapters of the Association of Legal Administrators, and the Suburban Maryland Legal Administrators. She is also deeply committed and involved in fundraising for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society and American Diabetes Association.
